

New Responsibilities – Part II

Germany within a Global World

---

Rising populism and growing isolation of states intensify today's crisis of multilateralism, putting the newly elected government to test. Now that states are increasingly pulling out of global responsibilities, Germany will only conquer global challenges like environmental protection, security policy and sustainable development shoulder on shoulder with Europe.

What global responsibilities should Germany accept, and could a coalition between CDU, CSU, FDP, and the Greens meet these responsibilities? What consequences can we expect from this new constellation on German foreign policy, its goals and achievements?

Speakers:

Wolfgang Schmitt, Former Director GIZ German Society for International Cooperation

Dennis Tänzler, Director International Climate Politics adelphi

Dr Michael Werz, Senior Fellow Center for American Progress, Mercator Senior Fellow (2020-2021)

Moderation:

Dr Ingrid Hamm, Co-Founder and CEO Global Perspectives Initiative

Katharina Krüger, Advisor Stiftung Mercator

Partner:

Stiftung Mercator

Contact Person:

Judith Ramadan, Project Management
j.ramadan@globalperspectives.org

More Events on This Topic:

How to untap the African venture market

The Africa Roundtable: April 2023

No Women – No Future